DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
- I. Claims 1-4 and 27-48, drawn to a method for removing fluid from a patient including determining and maintaining a specific percentage of cardiac output as the blood flow in the circuit, classified in class 604, subclass 5.01.
- II. Claims 16-26, drawn to a method for removing fluid from a patient including determining and maintaining a specific rate of the removal of blood, classified in class 604, subclass 5.01.
- III. Claims 16-26, drawn to a method of removing fluid from a patient with a membrane of specific transmembrane pressure, classified in class 604, subclass 6.09.

1-4
6-15
17-26
27-48

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions in Group I and Group III are related as subcombination and combination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the method in Group I does not require the determination and maintenance of a specific blood removal rate as required in Group II. The subcombination has separate utility such as an independent method for fluid removal from the patient.

3. Inventions in Group I and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, the methods have separate utility as independent methods of fluid removal, but can be used together to maintain a specific percent of cardiac output in the circuit while using the filter with a specific transmembrane pressure. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

4. Inventions in Group II and Group III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, the methods have utility as independent methods of fluid removal, but can be used together to maintain a specific rate of blood removal while using the filter with a specific transmembrane pressure. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the searches required for the Groups are different, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
